

Skills Development Scotland (SDS) supplies information about the destinations of school leavers from publicly funded Secondary Schools, at an individual level, to the Scottish Government's Education Analytical Services Division. The return is based on a follow up of young people who left school between the 1st August 2012 and the 31st July 2013. The exercise was undertaken during the September/October 2013 and produced a snapshot of destinations as at Monday 7th October 2013.

The Scottish Government will not be publishing the results of the initial return until June 2014 therefore SDS agreed to provide a national overview in advance of this publication.

Unknown: Includes leavers whose destination is not known to either SDS or their partners. The term is used where a programme of direct phone calls has not been returned or responded to, and covers a number of circumstances including those who simply do not wish to engage or who may have gone abroad for an extended period after leaving school. Partnership working aims to minimise the number of young people in this category, with professionals working together to identify and provide support to young people who need help to move into learning or work.
